

Student assistant for research project “Open Foresight”

Technology and Innovation Management
at Hamburg University of Technology

Background

As part of the research project “Open Foresight”, which is sponsored by the Ministry of Science and Research of the City of Hamburg, a study is currently ongoing to analyze how companies can leverage external knowledge to detect future developments early. To complement data derived from a previous online survey, expert interviews are planned to further detail the initial results.

Activities

- Support in preparing and conducting expert interviews with business representatives from an international sample of large corporations (English and German speaking experts)
- Transcription of audio interview manuscripts into written form
- Support in general research activities within the project (e.g., support of literature reviews)

Requirements

- Very good skills in English (understanding and writing)
- Optional: very good skills in German (understanding and writing)
- Independent, diligent, and structured way of working

Application documents

- Current CV in German or English, including references if available
- Current academic record and copy of certificate of enrolment
- Short letter of motivation / cover letter in English

Start: as from now, for 2 months (40h/month)

Please send your application via mail to: Sara.Polier@tuhh.de

